Subject: Second interview at B.spoke Market Research

To: Job Candidate <You@email.com>

Good morning!

Congratulations on your upcoming interview with B.Spoke Market Research! Your interview is Wednesday, March 4, at 2 PM. You'll be meeting with Jodie Choi, data science lead, and she may bring in some others to meet you, as well.

It's important to note that this interview will be behavioral in nature. This kind of interview involves the presentation of scenarios typically encountered by junior data scientists.

These scenarios are meant to ascertain your thought process and how you'd tackle the situations presented. It's okay if you have yet to experience the scenarios in a professional sense; they are more interested in discovering your likely approach.

To help you prepare, please think about the following topics:

- When to use spreadsheets versus SQL
- Basic spreadsheet and SQL functions
- Basic spreadsheet and SQL tools

Again, congratulations, and good luck on Wednesday!

Best regards,
Kennedy
